

MEET THE EXPERTS - buyerseminar.ca

Chris Dunlop

Real Estate Broker,
Royal LePage Estate Realty

With my 20 years of education and training experience combined with my expertise as a Realtor, I will help you understand and prepare for the home buying process. You will learn about developing your search criteria, how to engage in a successful search and purchase process, and the basics of how to evaluate how well prospective properties meet your needs. I will also ensure you are aware of the consumer protection measures that are in place and what you can expect from your Realtor and other Realtors. I believe strongly in the importance of consumer education and advocacy and am confident that you will have a much better home buying experience by starting with our seminar. When I became a Realtor I chose to specialize in first time home buyers and sellers. I know and understand what first time buyers and sellers are thinking and feeling and can work with you to make informed choices that you feel comfortable with.

TESTIMONIAL

"I thought owning my own home was beyond my means and that I was destined to be a professional renter for the rest of my life. Then I met Chris Dunlop at one of his First-time Home Buyer Seminars. It was one of the best two hours I have spent in a long time. The seminar was very educational and informative. I left the seminar feeling encouraged that home ownership was a possibility for me.

I was impressed with Chris' passion and dedication to help people achieve their dreams, and his approach with clients. I felt Chris was someone a first-time homebuyer, like me, could trust. I felt I would feel comfortable working with Chris ...

I really appreciated the full service Chris provided. He referred me to a mortgage broker, real estate lawyer, and home inspector. I didn't know the home-buying process could be so smooth and easy. The hardest part was waiting for the closing."

TESTIMONIAL

"after 5 years of renting, I decided to educate myself and look at the possibility of buying a place.

By doing so, I went to several home buying seminars that were offered for 1st time buyers.

After attending Chris and Mary's seminar, I was instantly convinced that I would go for them".

During our seminars, we will talk about the differences between buying and renting. You will learn how much you can afford to spend on your home purchase. I will help you to understand the types of mortgages, differences between interest rates, terms and anything else involved in helping you to make educated decisions during the process.

TESTIMONIAL

".. I am very glad that I attended your seminar. It was truly worthwhile. From that very first day, I felt that you conducted yourself very well with such professionalism and integrity. You continued to conduct yourself as such throughout the whole time we looked at properties!

With all the advice and support you have given me, I felt a lot more confident with all my decision-making.

You have made this first time home buying experience a very positive one. It has been a great pleasure working with you and I look forward to working with you again in the future. Thanks for everything!"

TESTIMONIAL

"Like many other people, we didn't think we could afford to buy a home, let alone someplace we might actually want to live in. Chris' first time home buyers seminar opened our eyes to a whole world of options and gave us a realistic perspective of what we could afford and what was available. Many of our most important questions were answered right away and the seminar gave us a detailed overview of the whole process. He provided us with the tools to evaluate both individual properties on the market and his performance as a Realtor."
